Elaine Bigham just before her trip to Ghana

Hertfordshire School Teacher Elaine Bigham arrived in Ghana on Easter Saturday night on her way to a school in rural Ghana. Elaine is expected to observe, teach and assist Handmaid's of Divine Redeemer Missionary School in many ways. She will be based in a village called Agomanya in the Eastern Region of Ghana. Elaine said on Easter Sunday – 'The flight on BA was good. This morning, it is hot. Apart from that, I am good and I expect things to go well'. Elaine lives in Hertfordshire but teaches at St Matthews Primary School at Luton. Motec wishes Elaine a fruitful two week working visit to Ghana.
